

STELL ON THE BOOM FIGHTERS IN A FIX. AWAY TO HAYTI. EXTRA GENTLEMEN, HEAR ME. 2 O'CLOCK. THE MESSAGE

The Guarantee Fund Will Not Stop at $5,000,000.

A Claim that It Can Be Doubled Before Congress Moves.

"The World" Canvassers Pursue their Energetic Work.

Public interest in the World's Fair is increasing daily, and the people have at last awakened to the fact that the Exposition is within the grasp of this city, and every effort is being made to secure it.

There are many wealthy men in this city who have not as yet enrolled themselves on the list of subscribers, but if the fund is to be increased to ten millions, there is small doubt but what they will come forward.

The Legislative Committee have framed the bill for Congress, and it is ready for the Executive Committee to pass upon.

Meanwhile, there should be no let-up to the subscriptions, and the books are kept open.

The fund is running well along toward the sixth million, and when it is completed it will set as an additional spur for the remaining $4,000,000.

The World still continues its personal canvass, and is meeting with good results.

When the books were opened this morning the list stood as follows:

Previously acknowledged..... $339,167

"The World's" canvassers yesterday:

Thomas F. Hays, manufacturer of silk goods, 235 East 104th st. 1,000

James Flischer, meat market, 2046 2d ave. 800

Thomas F. H. Beyer, manufacturer of silk goods, 2061 2d ave. 600

S. Bloch, meat market, 2125 2d ave. 600

E. Strauss, dry-goods dealer, 2009 2d ave. 400

M. L. Hure, liquor dealer, 2103 2d ave. 400

J. J. & F. A. Fitzpatrick, builders, 154 East 118th st. 400

L. Isaac, shoe manufacturer, 2109 2d ave. 400

Samuel Stern, liquor dealer, 2058 2d ave. 250

Total..... $342,917

There will be a money market for the supplies of the organized labor bodies at Cooper Union, to take action regarding the World's Fair.

Many well-known speakers will attend.

Wholesale Arrests Made at a Quiet Mill in Brooklyn.

Four of the Men Discovered Under a Pile of Hay.

Doherty Whips Fox in a Tame Fight of Nine Rounds.

Billy Doherty and Tony Fox, both of Brooklyn, fought to a finish with gloves in the hay-loft of a stable near the Bridge on Washington street, Brooklyn, early this morning.

The battle lasted nine rounds, and the seventy-five spectators who paid 20 cents each were so thoroughly disinterested with the affair that they threatened to trounce the contestants.

Doherty weighed in the vicinity of 152 pounds, and Fox, who is an Italian, was several pounds lighter. Billy Baker was selected referee, Frank McNamee held the watch, and the seconds were Dick Garly and Frank Tighe for Fox, and Schuyler Powers and Tom Moran for Doherty.

The men played tag with each other for six rounds and only began fighting when the howls of the crowd frightened them.

Doherty was in every way the better man, and in the ninth round several right handers delivered on the face of Fox made him throw up his hands.

Officer John Fox of the Adams street station, on horse post the stable in the hay-loft, saw the crowd retreating from the place and rapped for assistance. Officer John Manix responded and they captured the men as they came out of the gate.

Then a patrol wagon was summoned, and four of the spectators were taken to the station.

Then the officers made a thorough investigation of the stable.

John Doherty, a watchman, who was asleep while the fight was in progress, woke up to find a policeman shaking him by the shoulder. He, too, was marched to the station, and charged with being in blindest ignorance of the charge that was made against him.

The blue-coats climbed up the iron stairway, but the loft was apparently deserted. The rope which formed the ring, however, was there, and a blood-stained towel and several spoons lay beside two water bottles on the floor.

One corner of the loft was filled with hay. The hay looked harmless, but a sneeze coming from beneath it was distinctly heard by the officers as they were preparing to retire.

Four men, the referee, timekeeper, Doherty and one of his seconds, were dragged from their hiding place. Two others were found in a feed-box.

The whole party were driven to the Adams street station.

Justice Walsh discharged the crowd, as the police could not prove that a prize fight had taken place.

Admiral Gherardi and His Warships Sail from Brooklyn.

He is Said to Carry State Messages for Minister Douglass.

Together With Instructions for a Coaling Station at Port au Prince.

Everything was bustle and stir at the Navy-Yard this morning over the departure of the war steamer Galena, Rear-Admiral and Dolohin for Hayti, under the command of Rear-Admiral Gherardi, of the North Atlantic Squadron.

The Galena wore the Rear-Admiral's colors as the flagship, but the Kearsarge was the first to sail, leaving the dock at 9 o'clock.

The Galena did not cast off from her moorings until 9.45. It was understood that the Dolohin was under orders to sail at a later hour. Rear-Admiral Gherardi passed last night at his home in Brooklyn, but was at the Navy-Yard very early this morning, and went at once on board the Galena.

He was too busy to see any visitors, and no one outside of the officers and crew and the Navy-Yard officers was permitted to go on board.

None of the Yard officers would have anything to say about the significance of the departure of the Galena, which was exclusively announced in THE WORLD'S Washington dispatch.

A big bundle of private documents, addressed to Admiral Gherardi, was sent to the Galena. It was said at the Navy-Yard that they were from the State and Naval Departments, and had special reference to the establishment of a coaling station at Port-au-Prince, which contains instructions, also, from Secretary Blaine, for United States Minister Fred Douglass, at Hayti.

The squadron is expected to reach Port-au-Prince in about two weeks.

Commander G. W. Sturges has command of the Galena. Commander Horace Elmer of the Kearsarge, and Commander Charles O'Neil of the Dolohin.

They Hardly Believe the Stern Trunks Were Worth $150,000.

Lawyer Hays & Greenbaum, had plenty of callers this morning in the persons of creditors of the defunct jewelry firm of Stern & Stern, who failed last week for about $200,000.

They were all considerably excited over a report from Cincinnati that Tatten & Tatten, of Boston, had seized about $100,000 worth of jewelry that belonged to the defunct firm and was being carried around in two trunks by Joseph Phillips, one of Stern & Stern's agents.

The report from Cincinnati also announced that Tatten & Tatten's claim of $1,000 was promptly paid, when Jacob Stern, another of the defunct firm's agents, suddenly appeared and insisted that the trunk was his property in Kentucky, remarking, as he looked them up, that they were worth nearly $150,000.

As soon as he heard of the attachment, he began to snuff a little snuff for himself.

I consider the report that there was $150,000 in the trunks very much exaggerated," said Attorney Hays to an EVENING WORLD reporter.

"No traveler ever carries over $10,000, and I don't believe Phillips had more than that," he said. "We mailed four trunks yesterday. I telegraphed on to attach for my clients, but I haven't heard yet whether an attachment has been made or not. Of course we shall follow the matter up."

L. Kahn, of L. & M. Kahn, creditors of the defunct firm, to the extent of $7,441, said to the reporter:

"I don't think much about this Cincinnati affair, but I am sure that if a firm can fit out an agent with $150,000 worth of goods ought not to fail for $10,000, perhaps there was that amount of goods in the trunks, but I doubt it."

I don't think much about this Cincinnati affair, but I am sure that if a firm can fit out an agent with $150,000 worth of goods ought not to fail for $10,000, perhaps there was that amount of goods in the trunks, but I doubt it."

It looked equally very squally," was the remark of Albert Lorch, of Albert Lorch & Co., who years after Stern & Stern to the extent of $8,365.

I hardly think the contents of the trunks were so valuable, but if they were there is something wrong somewhere. I don't know anything about the trunks being in Cincinnati, and have made no special effort to recover."

They Hardly Believe the Stern Trunks Were Worth $150,000.

Lawyer Hays & Greenbaum, had plenty of callers this morning in the persons of creditors of the defunct jewelry firm of Stern & Stern, who failed last week for about $200,000.

They were all considerably excited over a report from Cincinnati that Tatten & Tatten, of Boston, had seized about $100,000 worth of jewelry that belonged to the defunct firm and was being carried around in two trunks by Joseph Phillips, one of Stern & Stern's agents.

The report from Cincinnati also announced that Tatten & Tatten's claim of $1,000 was promptly paid, when Jacob Stern, another of the defunct firm's agents, suddenly appeared and insisted that the trunk was his property in Kentucky, remarking, as he looked them up, that they were worth nearly $150,000.

As soon as he heard of the attachment, he began to snuff a little snuff for himself.

I consider the report that there was $150,000 in the trunks very much exaggerated," said Attorney Hays to an EVENING WORLD reporter.

"No traveler ever carries over $10,000, and I don't believe Phillips had more than that," he said. "We mailed four trunks yesterday. I telegraphed on to attach for my clients, but I haven't heard yet whether an attachment has been made or not. Of course we shall follow the matter up."

L. Kahn, of L. & M. Kahn, creditors of the defunct firm, to the extent of $7,441, said to the reporter:

"I don't think much about this Cincinnati affair, but I am sure that if a firm can fit out an agent with $150,000 worth of goods ought not to fail for $10,000, perhaps there was that amount of goods in the trunks, but I doubt it."

It looked equally very squally," was the remark of Albert Lorch, of Albert Lorch & Co., who years after Stern & Stern to the extent of $8,365.

I hardly think the contents of the trunks were so valuable, but if they were there is something wrong somewhere. I don't know anything about the trunks being in Cincinnati, and have made no special effort to recover."

HOPE NOT YET FREE.

The Argument in His Habeas Corpus Proceedings To Be Heard To-Morrow.

Jimmy Hope, the veteran bank burglar, who is held in Ludlow Street Jail awaiting the disposition of the proceedings now being carried on to keep him here in New York, was in Judge Wheeler's United States Circuit Court this morning.

Charles Brooke, Hope's lawyer, announced that he had received a communication from the District Attorney, asking for an adjournment of the case until to-morrow, as Assistant District Attorney Macdonald was in Albany arguing the Carlton case. Judge Wheeler consented to allow the case to rest until to-morrow, when it will come up at 10.30 o'clock. Hope was taken back to the Ludlow Street Jail.

HOPE NOT YET FREE.

The Argument in His Habeas Corpus Proceedings To Be Heard To-Morrow.

Jimmy Hope, the veteran bank burglar, who is held in Ludlow Street Jail awaiting the disposition of the proceedings now being carried on to keep him here in New York, was in Judge Wheeler's United States Circuit Court this morning.

Charles Brooke, Hope's lawyer, announced that he had received a communication from the District Attorney, asking for an adjournment of the case until to-morrow, as Assistant District Attorney Macdonald was in Albany arguing the Carlton case. Judge Wheeler consented to allow the case to rest until to-morrow, when it will come up at 10.30 o'clock. Hope was taken back to the Ludlow Street Jail.

THE WORK OF MORPHINE AND COCAINE.

(SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.)

POTOMACKEEP, N. Y., Dec. 2.—Dr. T. K. Crane, of Wappinger Falls, a prominent surgeon, threatened to kill his wife last Friday. He was examined, adjudged insane and committed to the Hudson River State Hospital. He asked for another examination, which the Court granted, and the second examination is still in progress.

Every day some one dies of morphine and cocaine poisoning, which he says, he must have for heart disease. When not under the influence of those drugs, he is a sane man, but he will go to Wappinger Falls, accompanied by counsel, to attend to a case of surgery. He has made several attempts, but he is not now in New York hospitals and are highly commended by Dr. Sayre, of New York.

THE WORK OF MORPHINE AND COCAINE.

(SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.)

POTOMACKEEP, N. Y., Dec. 2.—Dr. T. K. Crane, of Wappinger Falls, a prominent surgeon, threatened to kill his wife last Friday. He was examined, adjudged insane and committed to the Hudson River State Hospital. He asked for another examination, which the Court granted, and the second examination is still in progress.

Every day some one dies of morphine and cocaine poisoning, which he says, he must have for heart disease. When not under the influence of those drugs, he is a sane man, but he will go to Wappinger Falls, accompanied by counsel, to attend to a case of surgery. He has made several attempts, but he is not now in New York hospitals and are highly commended by Dr. Sayre, of New York.

THE MAYOR HAS NOT YET SIGNED THE ORDINANCE RELATING TO STREET MUSIC.

Letters continue to pour in to the Mayor in relation to his signing the new ordinance regulating the playing of itinerant musicians, which removes the ban of proscription from the organ-grinders.

More than 90 per cent. of these urge that he sign the ordinance, while most of them even suggest that he recommend a further amendment to the ordinance, removing even the prohibition against the little German bands.

Mayor Grant did not make return of his action on the ordinance at to-day's meeting of the Board of Aldermen, and may not set on it this week.

THE MAYOR HAS NOT YET SIGNED THE ORDINANCE RELATING TO STREET MUSIC.

Letters continue to pour in to the Mayor in relation to his signing the new ordinance regulating the playing of itinerant musicians, which removes the ban of proscription from the organ-grinders.

More than 90 per cent. of these urge that he sign the ordinance, while most of them even suggest that he recommend a further amendment to the ordinance, removing even the prohibition against the little German bands.

Mayor Grant did not make return of his action on the ordinance at to-day's meeting of the Board of Aldermen, and may not set on it this week.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING LUMBER.

Philip Callahan, thirty-seven years old, of 443 West Twenty-sixth street, was crushed under a pile of lumber that toppled over in the hold of the steamship Furness, at pier 4, North River, this morning, and was instantly killed.

2 O'CLOCK.

THE MESSAGE.

President Harrison's Recommendations to the National Congress.

Urgent Need of an Immediate Revision of the Tariff Laws.

He Favors the Abolition of Internal Revenue Taxes.

Congress Urged to Provide for a World's Fair in Honor of the Columbus Quadri-Centennial.

2 O'CLOCK.

THE MESSAGE.

President Harrison's Recommendations to the National Congress.

Urgent Need of an Immediate Revision of the Tariff Laws.

He Favors the Abolition of Internal Revenue Taxes.

Congress Urged to Provide for a World's Fair in Honor of the Columbus Quadri-Centennial.

LOVE AND ELOPED. AFTER A REPRIEVE.

Henry Watterson's Young Son Mixes Medicine and Romance.

Consonia, but apparently not fearful, of the shameful death so rapidly nearing him, Harry Carlton sat in the rooming house in the Tombs this morning, quietly reading a newspaper.

His good-hearted Deputy Sheriff Delmore peered thoughtfully in front of the cage, smoking a cigar.

Deputy Sheriff Carragher sat beside the condemned man, thoughtfully looking at the floor.

It was very quiet and peaceful, and only the busy hum of the streets outside broke the silence when an EVENING WORLD reporter was ushered into the cage.

Father Gelius and the Sisters of Mercy are with him almost constantly, and when they are not there he reads the newspapers or the Bible.

"Have you made up your mind to die?" asked the reporter.

Carlton threw his paper aside, tilted his chair back and thought for a moment before he answered:

"Yes, I am prepared to face my Maker at any moment now."

I have made my peace, I hope, with heaven, but I don't think that I'll have any more of this sort of thing," he said, looking at the reporter.

"You were married to a young woman, weren't you?"

"Yes, I was married to a young woman, and she was a very nice girl, but she died of a fever."

"And you were married to her?"

"Yes, I was married to her, and she was a very nice girl, but she died of a fever."

"And you were married to her?"

"Yes, I was married to her, and she was a very nice girl, but she died of a fever."

LOVE AND ELOPED. AFTER A REPRIEVE.

Henry Watterson's Young Son Mixes Medicine and Romance.

Consonia, but apparently not fearful, of the shameful death so rapidly nearing him, Harry Carlton sat in the rooming house in the Tombs this morning, quietly reading a newspaper.

His good-hearted Deputy Sheriff Delmore peered thoughtfully in front of the cage, smoking a cigar.

Deputy Sheriff Carragher sat beside the condemned man, thoughtfully looking at the floor.

It was very quiet and peaceful, and only the busy hum of the streets outside broke the silence when an EVENING WORLD reporter was ushered into the cage.

Father Gelius and the Sisters of Mercy are with him almost constantly, and when they are not there he reads the newspapers or the Bible.

"Have you made up your mind to die?" asked the reporter.

Carlton threw his paper aside, tilted his chair back and thought for a moment before he answered:

"Yes, I am prepared to face my Maker at any moment now."

I have made my peace, I hope, with heaven, but I don't think that I'll have any more of this sort of thing," he said, looking at the reporter.

"You were married to a young woman, weren't you?"

"Yes, I was married to a young woman, and she was a very nice girl, but she died of a fever."

"And you were married to her?"

"Yes, I was married to her, and she was a very nice girl, but she died of a fever."

"And you were married to her?"

"Yes, I was married to her, and she was a very nice girl, but she died of a fever."

NINE BRUTAL ROUNDS.

In Which Johnny O'Brien Knocked Out Mike Brennan.

A fiercely contested prize-fight took place early this morning near Newtown, L. I.

The principals were Johnny O'Brien, of Laurel Hill, and Mike Brennan, of Long Island City.

The fight was for a purse of $250, under Queensberry rules, with hard gloves.

Brennan is twenty-eight years old, 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighs 174 pounds. O'Brien is 27 years old, 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighs 174 pounds.

The first round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The second round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The third round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The fourth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The fifth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The sixth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The seventh round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The eighth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The ninth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

NINE BRUTAL ROUNDS.

In Which Johnny O'Brien Knocked Out Mike Brennan.

A fiercely contested prize-fight took place early this morning near Newtown, L. I.

The principals were Johnny O'Brien, of Laurel Hill, and Mike Brennan, of Long Island City.

The fight was for a purse of $250, under Queensberry rules, with hard gloves.

Brennan is twenty-eight years old, 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighs 174 pounds. O'Brien is 27 years old, 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighs 174 pounds.

The first round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The second round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The third round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The fourth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The fifth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The sixth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The seventh round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The eighth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

The ninth round was a close one, and both men were badly bruised.

NO HOPE FOR GREENWALL.

Judge Moore Refuses to Grant a Stay of Execution.

Judge Moore, of the Court of General Sessions, Brooklyn, this morning again decided against John Greenwall, condemned to be executed on Friday next for the murder of Lyman S. Weeks.

Both motions—one for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, as recently printed in THE WORLD, and a stay of execution—were denied in a lengthy, formal opinion.

Lawyers Anderson and Perry will make a last appeal to the Governor for the appointment of a referee to investigate the case, and in the event of that failing they will ask for Executive clemency on the ground of the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

NO HOPE FOR GREENWALL.

Judge Moore Refuses to Grant a Stay of Execution.

Judge Moore, of the Court of General Sessions, Brooklyn, this morning again decided against John Greenwall, condemned to be executed on Friday next for the murder of Lyman S. Weeks.

Both motions—one for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, as recently printed in THE WORLD, and a stay of execution—were denied in a lengthy, formal opinion.

Lawyers Anderson and Perry will make a last appeal to the Governor for the appointment of a referee to investigate the case, and in the event of that failing they will ask for Executive clemency on the ground of the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

NO HOPE FOR GREENWALL.

Judge Moore Refuses to Grant a Stay of Execution.

Judge Moore, of the Court of General Sessions, Brooklyn, this morning again decided against John Greenwall, condemned to be executed on Friday next for the murder of Lyman S. Weeks.

Both motions—one for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, as recently printed in THE WORLD, and a stay of execution—were denied in a lengthy, formal opinion.

Lawyers Anderson and Perry will make a last appeal to the Governor for the appointment of a referee to investigate the case, and in the event of that failing they will ask for Executive clemency on the ground of the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

NO HOPE FOR GREENWALL.

Judge Moore Refuses to Grant a Stay of Execution.

Judge Moore, of the Court of General Sessions, Brooklyn, this morning again decided against John Greenwall, condemned to be executed on Friday next for the murder of Lyman S. Weeks.

Both motions—one for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, as recently printed in THE WORLD, and a stay of execution—were denied in a lengthy, formal opinion.

Lawyers Anderson and Perry will make a last appeal to the Governor for the appointment of a referee to investigate the case, and in the event of that failing they will ask for Executive clemency on the ground of the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

NO HOPE FOR GREENWALL.

Judge Moore Refuses to Grant a Stay of Execution.

Judge Moore, of the Court of General Sessions, Brooklyn, this morning again decided against John Greenwall, condemned to be executed on Friday next for the murder of Lyman S. Weeks.

Both motions—one for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, as recently printed in THE WORLD, and a stay of execution—were denied in a lengthy, formal opinion.

Lawyers Anderson and Perry will make a last appeal to the Governor for the appointment of a referee to investigate the case, and in the event of that failing they will ask for Executive clemency on the ground of the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

NO HOPE FOR GREENWALL.

Judge Moore Refuses to Grant a Stay of Execution.

Judge Moore, of the Court of General Sessions, Brooklyn, this morning again decided against John Greenwall, condemned to be executed on Friday next for the murder of Lyman S. Weeks.

Both motions—one for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, as recently printed in THE WORLD, and a stay of execution—were denied in a lengthy, formal opinion.

Lawyers Anderson and Perry will make a last appeal to the Governor for the appointment of a referee to investigate the case, and in the event of that failing they will ask for Executive clemency on the ground of the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

NO HOPE FOR GREENWALL.

Judge Moore Refuses to Grant a Stay of Execution.

Judge Moore, of the Court of General Sessions, Brooklyn, this morning again decided against John Greenwall, condemned to be executed on Friday next for the murder of Lyman S. Weeks.

Both motions—one for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, as recently printed in THE WORLD, and a stay of execution—were denied in a lengthy, formal opinion.

Lawyers Anderson and Perry will make a last appeal to the Governor for the appointment of a referee to investigate the case, and in the event of that failing they will ask for Executive clemency on the ground of the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

NO HOPE FOR GREENWALL.

Judge Moore Refuses to Grant a Stay of Execution.

Judge Moore, of the Court of General Sessions, Brooklyn, this morning again decided against John Greenwall, condemned to be executed on Friday next for the murder of Lyman S. Weeks.

Both motions—one for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, as recently printed in THE WORLD, and a stay of execution—were denied in a lengthy, formal opinion.

Lawyers Anderson and Perry will make a last appeal to the Governor for the appointment of a referee to investigate the case, and in the event of that failing they will ask for Executive clemency on the ground of the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

Greenwall heard the result of the efforts of his counsel in half an hour after the decision of Judge Moore.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF SAMUEL WILKESON.

Railway men were saddened to-day by the announcement of the death of Samuel Wilkeson, which occurred at his home, 8 West Fortieth street, in this city, last evening.

Mr. Wilkeson had been Secretary of the Northern Pacific Railway Company for many years. He was born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1817, and has been connected with the railway all his life. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.